SPENCER NEWS

SPENCER

Isn't it fine to live in a community that has gone over the top every time it was called on, to see the honor flag on display, to say to the other fellow when you go out of town, "Well Spencer went over the top the first night."

Everyone should be cautious of going to public gatherings at present owing to the ravages of the Spanish flu. Our neighbor, Wellington, has 500 cases reported in the Plain Dealer on Tuesday.

Beulah Woods' room mate, Miss Martha Kinsey of West Salem high school, came home with her Friday, returning Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Freeman is much improved in health. We hope to see her about soon.

Mr. George Bouthinon is grading a street off South Main street and expects to erect three houses this fall.

Mrs. Nancy Ingraham has disposed of her property on West Main street to the Spencer Metal Products Co. Keep your eye on progressive Spencer.

Rev. Bennett and family had a very enjoyable visit with old friends in and near Mansfield. While there they attended a meeting of the Mansfield Baptist association, which was held at the Pleasant Valley church where Rev. Bennett was formerly pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Garriss and son Carl Dague, motored to Michigan where they expect to be gone about two weeks.

Miss Ruth Ream spent Sunday with her brother, in Monroeville, O.

The sad news reached our village of the death of John Lichteitner. He was a loyal citizen and his departure is a loss to the community. The funeral services were held Monday and burial was made in Seville cemetery.

At present the Spanish flu concerns us more than the German gun. Owing to illness, Herman Kimball was forced to quit his work at the Spencer Metal Products Co.

Frankie Aldrich, Jr., is a victim of grippe, or Spanish flu, and will not be able to answer his call for physical examination at Medina, Saturday, Oct. 12.

The annual reunion of the H. H. Sunday school will be held at the town hall, Tuesday, Oct. 15.

Ford Kitchen is sick at his parents' home. Ford has been attending aviation school in Texas.

The Sentinel is in receipt of a letter from Corporal Alfred Ensign to his parents, which will appear next week.

This letter was received by W. A. Moore, written by his brother, Frances L. Moore, one of our popular Spencer young men:

Somewhere in France, Sept. 9, 1918.

Dear Brother and All:
Well, I am across the pond, as you call it---some pond, too. Can tell you more about it when I see you. I was seasick about three days. It's a great experience beyond imagination.

Arrived o. k., feeling extra fine. The country looks strange to us. U. S. money goes a long ways here. We bought good sandwiches for four cents, big sandwiches, too. The French and English coins look funny; I am looking them over closely as you might know. If possible I will bring back one of each kind I get.

I believe I will like it here. It will be a great experience to tell you about. Wouldn't take a good bit for my experience so far.

Women run the street cars here, but at that I saw women working on the section in Buffalo, N. Y. yards.

The streets are very narrow here. Hope you are all well. I will write often. Don't worry, I will be all right. It will be a long time before I get a letter from you, but I can easily wait as I know it takes time to get them started. All mail is censored now, so in answering don't mention anything at all in any way in regard to the war, as to my location or anything like that. Just plain news. How is Uncle Frank these days? Hope he is feeling as well as usual, and is not suffering any severe pain. Expect Wilda is some kid by this time. I sure would like to hear her talk. Am surprised she would remember me. Don't worry about me any more, as I will be all right. Write at once and tell me all the news. Even little items will look big from over there. Tell me where George Emerson is.

With love to all,
Frances L. Moore,

Editorial

It is a great comfort in knowing that, should a visitor drop in on us unexpectedly, we are ready to receive him or her.

Yes, friends and parents, that is what we are trying to do, for some just criticisms have been made, but now why not come in and see us some time when you have a little time off, and determine for yourself just how much work your own boy or girl is doing.

"Yes," you may say, "but you have good teachers." Let them look out for you.

Well, we have good teachers, but a little encouragement from outsiders is sometimes necessary for the best work, so when you come to town, just walk over and see us and find out what we are doing.

Class and School Notes
The Juniors and Seniors were very much astonished to come to school on Tuesday morning and find the desks arranged differently.

The Freshmen and Sophomore's literary was well conducted last Friday, taking every thing into consideration. Several visitors were in attendance. Come again, we need your co-operation.

Everybody's doing it---What? Oh, the Spanish flu.

The first number of the Lecture course will be held Oct. 26.

The Best Time I Had During Vacation

One hot afternoon a girl friend, my sisters, and myself took our suppers and started for the dam, which was about two miles away.

It was about 2:30 when we reached the dam. We stopped to rest under the shade of a large walnut tree, before we started for the fishing pool, which was about a quarter of a mile down the dam.

My sisters ran on ahead of my friend and myself and when we reached the fishing pool they had baited their hooks and were breathlessly awaiting a bite.

My friend and myself always went fishing for the fun in it, not the fish, and my sisters became very angry with us for making so much noise.

We caught several small fish, but none that were large enough to take home.

About 5 o'clock we sat in the shade of a large tree to eat our lunch. While eating we were surprised to get several drops of rain.

After inspecting the sky we decided the sooner we reached home the better. We walked very swiftly, but it began to pour before we had gotten half way home.

When we reached home my mother told us we certainly looked like drowned fish. ---Mabelle Mantz, Freshman.

CHIPPEWA LAKE

The U. B. church was struck by lightning during the storm last Saturday evening. The bell tower was quite badly damaged, and was set on fire.

Thru the efforts of our local fire department and the chemical engine the flames were promptly extinguished. It will necessitate extensive repairs to the tower.

Mrs. Emma House is quite poorly. Several of our townsmen and a part of the school board went to Wadsworth Monday to interview the draft board as to the possibility of securing reclassification for our teacher, Mr. Bart.

The school is running so well under his management, it would be a real calamity to suffer his removal at this time. While the board did not give much satisfaction in the matter, it is still hoped other means of pressure may be brought to bear which may release him for the school year at least.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dickey have moved to Medina. Mr. Dickey is night-watchman at the A. I. Root Co.

Word received from Carter Carlton, who was home a short time ago on furlough, states that he is again on his way across the Atlantic, this being his fifth trip across.

E. F. Holmes' store was broken into last Friday night, but nothing of consequence was missed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Townsend and daughter, Elizabeth, left Saturday for their home in Pittsburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Koppes of Mansfield visited at H. S. Koppes' Saturday of last week and are spending the week among relatives on Paradise Road and vicinity.

CHATHAM

Floyd Koons of this place and Miss Elsie Cockrell of near Burbank were married at Burbank last Saturday evening. Their many friends and acquaintances extend them congratulations and best wishes.

Rev. Paddock of East Palestine is the new M. E. minister. He is in town now and expects his family and goods to arrive soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Rickard are spending part of this week in Cleveland.

Leslie Baker, a former resident of Chatham, died last week at his home near Wooster. Will Baker and family and Charles Gunsauls attended the funeral.

Linton Rodgers and family are visiting at Lyman Rodgers.

Miss May Thatcher of Cleveland visited at Will Morrell's over Sunday.

Miss Gertrude Morrell was home from Cleveland over Sunday.

Christian Sorenson of Lima is visiting at Milo Packard's.

A drilling rig has been moved onto the Lloyd Sanford farm this week. Now for more oil.

The Friendship class of the Congregational church will hold a war-time social at town hall Friday evening, Oct. 18. Fines will be imposed on the well-dressers.

Wm. Ripley spent Tuesday in Cleveland.

William Wideman is unable to work on account of eye trouble.

Chas. Neisz has been hired as school principal. We welcome Charlie back.

PAWNEE

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Strenick of West Salem, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Strenick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Falconer.

An eight-and-one-half pound boy came last Thursday night to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Basom.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eshelman of Lodi spent last Sunday at the George Fuller home.

Rev. Bagwell will begin a series of evangelistic services at the Church of the Brethren next Sunday evening, Oct. 13. Everyone come.

The Sanders family attended the funeral of Mrs. Sanders' sister, Miss Margaret Young, at Burbank, last Saturday.
